

RATON CATCHES HE HAD PAID NO AN ALLEGED BOARD FOR BURGLAR YEARS

After Many Robberies Officers Believe They Have the Right Man.

Yet He Whipped His Defenseless Landlady for Wanting Coln.

Raton, N. M., Sept. 16.—John Palo, the alleged burglar, who was caught prowling around Charley Allan's house last week, shortly after Mrs. Allan had heard an attempt made by parties outside to enter the place, is still in jail, but he refuses steadfastly to tell the police the name of his companion, whom Allan beat up badly before he escaped.

Allan was summoned to his home about midnight Friday by a phone call from his wife, who believed burglars were about to enter. He made a search of the premises and finally saw a man run from near the coal house. Gun in hand, Allan ran after the fellow but tripped over a second man who was crouched near the coal house. He beat this fellow's head up in the effort to quiet him and as they fought, Allan discovered the other man crawling over a fence, in his excitement he loosed the fellow who had been fighting and captured the runner, who proved to be Palo. The man with the bruised head is still at large.

Raton has suffered a number of burglaries of late and it is generally believed that Allan's capture will stop the siege for a time at least.

Another Burglary. Only about two hours before the Allan affair, burglars were discovered entering another home nearby, but the thieves heard the woman of the house calling up her husband, she having been alarmed by the racket they made, and they decamped without anything of value.

In all not less than twenty burglaries and attempted burglaries have been pulled off here in the past few months. Very little has been stolen but the terror inspired by the burglars has been such that women feared to remain at home alone at night. Vigorous attempts to catch the marauders have been made, but Allan's catch was the first result.

BIG RANCH DEAL MADE AT SPRINGER

Emilio Valdes Sold His Property for $30,000.—Beaver Working Hard at Ranch Near Roy.

Springer, N. M., Sept. 16.—(Special.)—Emilio Valdes has just closed a deal with eastern capitalists for the sale of his large ranch five miles from Springer. The consideration was $30,000. Mr. Valdes sold another tract recently which netted a goodly sum.

The Miami and French Land and Irrigation companies are putting in great reservoirs on the Verde and Red rivers for the irrigation of large tracts of land. About 60,000 acres will come under the benefit of this water. The land being sold to Valdes is being sold to a party who will mean new life to this city.

The ranch of M. W. Mills, on Red river, near Roy, thirty miles east of Springer, is suffering from depredations of beavers. The beavers are of the dam building class and they have nearly destroyed his orchard. A great many beavers are found in the lakes and streams of the Vandeveto range of mountains and they are increasing rapidly on account of being protected by both territorial and federal law.

NOW THE CRYSTAL

The closest event of importance now is the formal opening of the new Crystal vaudeville circuit house here.

The company has had its eye upon this city for considerably over a season, as a coming town within its far reaching chain, and at last has decided to extend to Albuquerque in its journey from the Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Colorado points to the coast.

Of course it can't boast of as commodious or as handsome quarters here as in most of the other cities of the circuit, but these will come in the natural course of time as they did in the other cases. As the Crystal vaudeville circuit entered this city it found no vacancy in which to install a theatre, save the snug little one at 129 West Second street, which it has so well transformed for its own needs almost within a fortnight.

The original intention is to either erect a new theatre or theatre for its own needs or else have one erected and lease it. The Crystal circuit is owned by the Western States Vaudeville association with headquarters in San Francisco. There are seventy-two houses in the chain and the capital stock runs into the millions. By adding as many weeks of continuous performance to the loss of a week to the performer possible the circuit is enabled to get both better acts and get them more reasonable.

Hereafter there was always a week lost to the performer between the Colorado and the coast or, vice versa, as the houses all close their week upon Sunday night and performers could not reach Los Angeles by Monday night. Albuquerque now will go a long way toward forming the complete wheel and saving the loss of a week to time performer and the extra on salary to make up for it to the circuit.

The policy of the houses upon the Crystal circuit is much the same as those of the Harvey system, so well known here, what goes in one house goes in all, large or small. The fare is polite, modern vaudeville for ladies, gentlemen and children; the price, continuous, the price, twenty and thirty cents, and the motto, "No act too good for our audiences."

Such an amusement institution is exactly what is wanted in this city and its coming fills a long felt need. The houses are conducted strictly Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 16.—A fellow, who goes by the name of "Red" Lynch, was arrested by Constable Jack Duffon last evening for cruelly beating and mistreating two defenseless women, one of whom had been confined to a sick bed for some time past.

The two women who were attacked are Mrs. Lena Beavers and Lula Hockelmer. The story as told by Mrs. Beavers is that she has for some time past been taking in roomers. Five years ago she was deserted by her husband and since that time has been eking out a scant existence for herself and two young sons by taking in washing and letting roomers.

Boarded Five Years Free. A short time after her husband left she says Lynch came around and desired to rent a room. He was given accommodations, for which he forgot to pay. When rent day fell due Lynch gave her a hard luck story. Later she found out that she was married, and then he told her that he belonged to the same lodge as her husband had and thus worked on her sympathies, to such an extent that he has had a room for the past five years free of charge. Recently it is stated, he started in getting himself drunk every night or two, and finally when she could stand his overbearing ways no longer, Mrs. Beavers requested him to leave, which he did, but only after making himself very disagreeable for a while.

Beat Landlady. Last night she says he went on another jag, appearing at the house and demanding his room back. This time woman refused whereupon he seized her, and began choking the breath from her body at the same time beating her with his free hand. Miss Hockelmer, who is an invalid, heard the noise from her room, and getting out of bed, went to the other woman's assistance, but only to be met by the same treatment from the fellow that Mrs. Beavers had received.

The authorities were notified and the man was arrested last night. Nearly all cough cures, especially those that contain opiates, are constipating. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup contains no opiates and acts gently on the bowels. Pleasant to take. For sale by J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

proper and anyone can send children with perfect impunity.

One matinee each afternoon is given, at 2:30 o'clock, except upon Tuesday and Friday afternoons, when ladies' souvenir matinees are held, and two performances are given (at 7:30 and 9:15).

Two performances are given every evening at 8:00 and 9:15. The prices are ten and twenty cents during afternoons and ten, twenty and thirty cents at night. The doors are always open a half hour before performance.

The program for next week includes among other features McCloud and Melville the celebrated team of singers, dancers and harpists. Besides being a genuine novelty these artists are a treat after an artistic fashion. One of the delights of the act is Mr. McCloud's eccentric English song and dance, styled "Howdy Body," which will be the song of the town the coming week.

Miss Melville exhibits more diamonds than half the ladies of Washington.

There are other features besides McCloud and Melville and you will hear all about them after Monday night. Let everybody boast and show the Crystal circuit that it made no bad choice when it decided upon Albuquerque.
